To whom it may concern,

In relation to the Inelo Tachoscan product, we must underline that our feedback on this software is extremely positive as we consider it a huge step forward for making us able to conduct more in depth roadside analysis of driver compliance. Our roadside check teams reported excellent performance of the software and reliability of the devices and they are happy with the manipulation warnings and highlighting features too.

Last, but not least, the training our personnel received was excellent and the subsequent support has always been to a high standard.

Thank you for your excellent support and for having created such a high quality product that rises up to meet our highest expectations.

Yours sincerely,

Alina Luminița Cațan
